

Welcome to “A Healthy State of Mind”! This is your host, Bo Deaton.

Do you ever think about how plentiful ball point pens are? I must have more than a hundred myself. When I pick one up and it refuses to work the way I want or expect it to, I just toss it away and never give it a second thought.

There are those who treat people the way I treat my ball point pens, that don't work properly. If a person doesn't act according to their specifications or fit in with their circle of friends, they simply toss them aside. If you feel like you have been tossed aside, I want you to know that your Creator will never toss you aside. He created you and you are fearfully and wonderfully made. He loves you regardless of what others might say or think. His love endures forever!

When God is in your circle of friends, you will experience the peace that passes the world's understanding, and you will always have a place at His table.
