

Welcome to “A Healthy State of Mind”! This is your host, Bo Deaton.

Have you ever examined the words good and evil? There is quite a difference when you consider the truth of the matter.

There’s a little self- examination to see which category you might be in.

Do you love light or do you prefer the darkness?

Do believe you are forgiven or you don’t really care?

Do you forgive others as you would like to be forgiven?

Would you prefer to be a servant of your Creator or a slave to Satan?

Do you choose your words carefully or does it matter?

In this self-examination, would you prefer to lean in both directions?

God’s Holy Word says: “No one can serve two masters. Either you will hate the one and love the other, or you will be devoted to the one and despise the other. Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, and it keeps no record of wrongs. Love never fails!
